

Creative

Maya Museum at Home

Create a mini "museum exhibit" at home about one aspect of Maya life (e.g. gods, food, homes, rulers).

- Include: title, short explanation, and drawings or models
- You could use LEGO, clay, cardboard, or drawings
- Optional: label items like a real museum

Maya Mask or Headdress

Design and make a Maya-style mask or headdress inspired by gods or animals.

- Use recycled materials
- Include a short paragraph explaining what it represents and why

Year 5

Spring term 1

We can't wait to see your projects. You can bring them into school or send them in via Google Classroom.

Science

Material Detective

Choose 5 objects at home (e.g. spoon, towel, bottle, toy).

- Record what material they are made from
- Test and describe properties:
- Present as a table, poster, or photos with labels

Reversible or Irreversible?

Find examples of changes at home (with adult supervision):

- Melting chocolate
- Freezing water
- Toasting bread (discussion only if not observed directly)

Sort changes into:

- Reversible
- Irreversible

Explain how they know

Research

Select a topic to research:

- Maya homes and cities
- Maya gods and beliefs
- Maya rulers and society
- Maya writing and numbers

Your research should include:

- ✓ Where and when the Maya lived
- ✓ 5-8 key facts about your topic
- ✓ At least one picture or drawing
- ✓ Some subject vocabulary (e.g. glyphs, civilisation, priest, maize)

Present your work as:

A fact file

A poster

A mini booklet

Multiplication

Column Multiplication

$$38 \times 24 \quad 34 \times 235 \quad 14 \times 156 \quad 67 \times 35$$

$$49 \times 126 \quad 72 \times 148 \quad 53 \times 178 \quad 34 \times 76$$

	x	2	1
	3	3	← This is 33 x 1
	6	6	0 ← This is 33 x 20
	6	9	3 ← This is 33 x 21

✓ Line up digits correctly

✓ Add partial products carefully

124 x 26 =
	x	2	6
	+ 2	4	8

Writing

A Day in the Life of a Maya Child

Write a diary entry describing a day in your life if you lived in the Maya civilisation.

Maya Glyphs Writing

Create your own symbols inspired by Maya glyphs.

- Write your name or a short sentence using your symbols
- Include a "key" explaining what each symbol means

Message from the Gods

Write a message or short story as if it were sent by a Maya god.

- Use powerful language
- Decorate the writing to look ancient
